FXMarketSpace Expands London and New York Team

London/Chicago/New York – Nov. 1, 2006 – FXMarketSpace, the first centrally-cleared, global, foreign exchange (FX) platform, today announced that it has made the following senior-level appointments:

- Cheri Giglia as Senior Vice President and Head of Finance. Giglia, 37, who will report to Mark Robson, Chief Executive Officer, joins from Trading Partners where she was Finance Director with overall responsibility for the Group's global finance function. Her role also included a position on the company's European management team where she was responsible for advising on all finance and budget related issues.
- Susan Malkin, 37, as Vice President, Operations. Malkin was previously with EBS Dealing Resources. During her tenure there, Malkin held a series of roles of increasing responsibility. Most recently she was an Operations Manager, leading technical support operations for a number of products including EBS Prime and EBS Spot. She will report to Yigal Oren, Senior Vice President and Head of Operations.
- Reny Morsch-Zlatkovic as Vice President, Sales, who will report to Rick Sears, President and Chief Sales Officer. Morsch-Zlatkovic, 40, has more than 12 years experience in FX sales and trading in European and US markets. Most recently, she worked for Deutsche Borse in London where she was involved in product development for Eurex, including the launch of FX futures at that exchange.
- Jake Smith as Vice President and Head of Marketing, also reporting to Sears. Smith, 37, joins from HSBC where he was Global Manager, Marketing in e-commerce. In that role he oversaw the development and implementation of HSBC's global e-FX and marketing strategy. He was also responsible for marketing HSBC's capabilities across bilateral and multi-bank platforms, white label services and liquidity provision. Prior to joining HSBC, Smith was Marketing Manager for Citibank Foreign Exchange where he managed external communications with specific focus on e-commerce, both bilateral and multi-bank.

- Alyson Wilson as Vice President and Head of Customer Solutions Management, EMEA. Wilson, 35, who will report to Dan Rosenberg, Senior Vice President and Head of Customer Solutions Management, joins from EBS where she was responsible for a high profile client base and managed the relationships for key accounts that included Barclays Capital, JP Morgan and Deutsche Bank. Her role also encompassed pre-sales, project-management to live trading and cross-selling solutions, mainly in relation to prime brokerage and algorithmic trading.

“Our ability to attract top talent demonstrates the market’s anticipation that FXMarketSpace will be one of the significant electronic trading platforms in FX,” said Mark Robson, Chief Executive Officer, FXMarketSpace. “I am delighted to welcome our five new team members and look forward to working with them as we take our exciting proposition onto to the next level.”

About FXMarketSpace

FXMarketSpace, a 50/50 joint venture between Reuters, the global information company, and CME, the world’s largest and most diverse financial exchange, will be the first centrally-cleared, global, over-the-counter foreign exchange (FX) marketplace. FXMarketSpace will be the first FX platform involving the entire spectrum of market participants including global and regional banks, asset managers, corporations, hedge funds and other market makers. The platform will combine CME’s central counterparty model and clearing function with Reuters straight-through processing capability. The result will be a platform that is uniquely positioned to reduce risk, provide deep liquidity, anonymity, price discovery, and cut costs and increase efficiencies for inter-dealer and institutional FX transactions.
